dk Gallery A Great Browse for a Winter's Afternoon

Marietta Square is now home to a wonderful contemporary art gallery. Owner Donna Krueger has always been inspired and swept away by her love of art. Her vision is for others to discover the joy of original fine art and the effect it can have in one's life—to create a gallery environment that fosters discovery and ultimately leads Marietta to become a district for fine art. What a great way to enjoy a chilly winter's day. Guys, a visit here will get you major Valentine's points with your love. How easy can this be for a date any girl would love? Arrange to spend an afternoon on the Square visiting the gallery and then take her for a great meal at Thai-coon afterwards or a cup of coffee and lovely chocolate at Winan's.

Located on the west side of the historic Marietta Square, dk Gallery represents contemporary painters and sculptors of the South with a diverse collection of landscapes, abstracts and figures. A few of the featured artists include: Fonde Taylor, Susan Easton Burns, Helen DeRamus, Carylton Killebrew and Hal Schwarze. It's a refreshing break from what one would expect from a gallery in the South. Trendy types that want to see something unique and unexpected, take note: there is not a watercolor of a plantation in the entire place. In case you can't make it in or visualize how a piece will look in your home, the gallery offers to send selections on approval and also provides on-site residential and corporate consultation. Gallery staff can bring multiple works to a client's home or office and help determine pieces that will be inheritable and suit the client's lifestyle.

dk Gallery is giving back to the community and has committed to embrace non-profit organizations, supporting and hosting events for: McKenna Farms Therapy, MUST Ministries, Rally Foundation, WellStar Women's Giving Society and WellStar Community Hospice.
